

Conference advertisements, sponsorships and exhibitions

ERNOP aims to advance, coordinate and promote excellence in philanthropic research in Europe. As non-profit, ERNOP is dependent on the contributions of its members and donations from institutions and individual supporters. This way, ERNOP is for example able to provide discounts at conference rates for students, organize PhD workshops, and travel and accommodation grants for scholars that otherwise would not be able to attend the conference.

To support ERNOP, several possibilities are available to display conference adds, exhibitions and or sponsor the conference. By doing so, you will attract the attention of an unique audience of philanthropy researchers and professionals that will attend the leading European conference on philanthropy. The 200 conference participants come from Europe and abroad, and the conference receives attention from the wider European philanthropy sector.

Conference advertisements

Your advertisement can be displayed on the conference program. Available are:
